Set across three well-proportioned storeys, this inviting terraced house in the heart of Tow Law, County Durham, offers superb potential for families, first-time buyers, and investors alike. Requiring some modernisation but presented chain free, the property delivers flexible living spaces and an affordable opportunity to enhance and personalise to your own taste.

The ground floor offers you with a versatile space that can function either as a comfortable bedroom or a relaxing lounge, ensuring complete adaptability to suit changing needs. On the first floor, a spacious and naturally lit lounge is complemented by a dedicated dining area. A separate, good-sized kitchen provides ample room for meal preparation, while both a modern wet room and a separate WC add consistent comfort and practicality.

Climbing to the top floor reveals two exceptionally generous double bedrooms. Each benefits from abundant natural light and offers plenty of space for restful nights or peaceful study. To the rear, there's a fully enclosed yard—ideal for container gardening, alfresco dining, or simply enjoying a breath of fresh air. On-street parking is readily available, adding further convenience.

Ideally situated in the historic town of Tow Law—once celebrated for its proud industrial past—the property is surrounded by a friendly community atmosphere. The dramatic landscapes of the North Pennines Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty are just minutes away, offering a variety of walking trails, cycling routes, and breath-taking scenic vistas. Tow Law itself provides a range of everyday amenities, including local shops, well-regarded schools, and welcoming pubs.
