

CAP HOUSE

LLANGUA | ABERGAVENNY | MONMOUTHSHIRE | NP7 8HD

WELCOME TO CAP HOUSE

A delightful inviting period home which offers substantial living space together with the benefit of a separate detached two bedroom cottage and outbuildings. Cap House is a fine example of a double fronted stone built house evident from the moment you enter through the solid entrance door with ornate fan light over. Many period features remain providing an insight into the history of this beautiful home, these include traditional fireplaces, coved high ceilings with plaster ceiling roses and exposed timbers. To complement the house and cottage are magnificent, level gardens amounting to just over an acre and incorporate a stone terrace, expansive lawns, vegetable garden, orchard and so much more. A gated driveway leads to the main house, separate cottage, ample parking, garage and a stone barn. In addition to the stone barn are other useful outbuildings for storage.

SELLER INSIGHT

“We have found Cap House to be the perfect family home, the amount of space is accentuated by the high ceilings and large windows, and the multiple living rooms for different generational needs has been a joy. It’s perfect for entertaining friends and family, and being able to have them to stay. The house on a sunny day has the most beautiful light flooding into most rooms, I love an early morning coffee watching the sun rise from the front-room bay windows. It was key when we were looking for a property to find space for our son to play football - well that has been the case here, and yet the garden is still very manageable despite its size. It produces the most delicious fruit each year from the orchard, established fruit bushes and an asparagus bed (if you like your food you will know what a treasure that is).

There are wonderful local walks along the river just across the road, and of course one can access all the best of the Brecon Beacons National Park, a very short drive away. The local village of Ewyas Harold also has nearly everything you could ever need. All the merits of this house, also makes Peak Cottage run as a very successful business, people have left glowing reports, enjoying the cottage and its location.”

GROUND FLOOR

The welcoming entrance hall provides access to the principal living rooms and the main staircases rises from the hall to the first floor. Either side of the entrance hall are two bay fronted reception rooms located either side of the hallway. The sitting room has a period fireplace, the library/study fitted cupboards, both rooms are filled with light and benefit from high ceilings. Beyond the entrance hall is an inner hall connecting the front and rear of this substantial house and providing access to the utility room and conservatory. The dining room is positioned next to the kitchen/breakfast room and boasts an impressive and ornate wooden fireplace with copper fire surround. The kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of cupboards with worksurfaces over, a feature of the room is an alcove, ideal for a range cooker with a stone lintel over. There is ample space for a family breakfast table and a walk in pantry provides ample storage space for food, crockery and kitchen equipment. The ground floor accommodation is completed by a cloakroom, on the lower ground floor is a cellar and useful workshop. Throughout the house are period features which enhance the character of this interesting home.

FIRST FLOOR

The first floor is served by the primary staircase rising from the entrance hall and a secondary staircase from the kitchen. To the first floor are 7 generously sized and light bedrooms and two bathrooms.

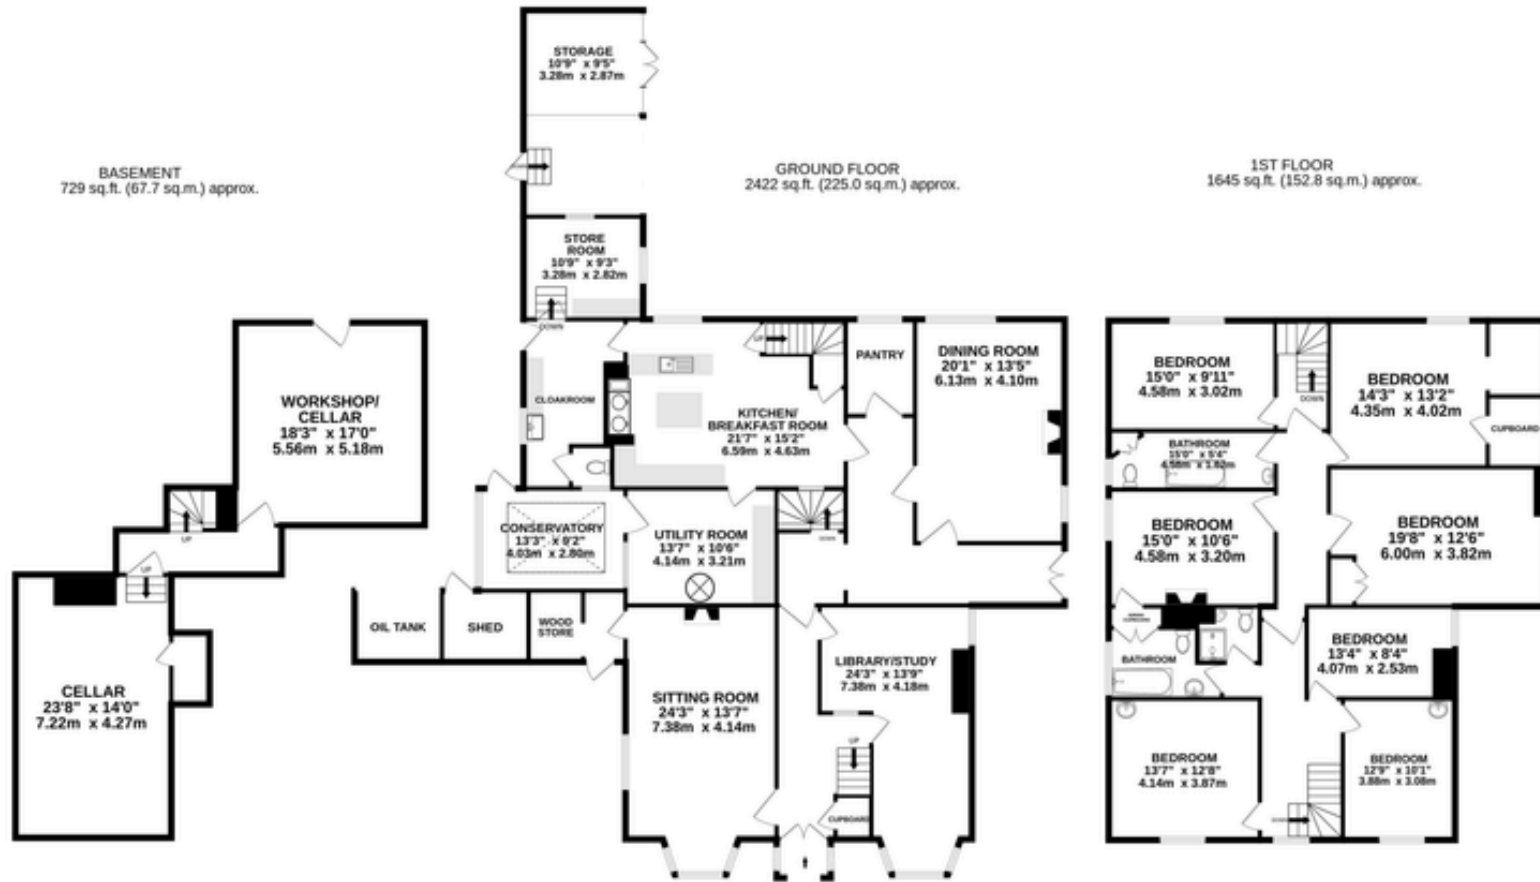

OUTSIDE

Cap House is approached from the road via a gated driveway leading to the side and rear of the house and continues to Peak Cottage, there is ample parking. To the right hand side of the driveway is the useful stone barn with potential, subject to any necessary planning consents. The house and cottage sit in just over an acre of mature gardens with expansive lawns, mature plants and hedges, specimen trees and vegetable garden. A stone patio, ideal for enjoying outdoor entertaining is accessed from the conservatory. The beautiful and generous gardens complement the house perfectly. Garage and driveway with ample space for several vehicles. Electric vehicle charging point.
