Yew Tree Farm is a remarkable example of a thatched former farmhouse, offering all the romance and character of a traditional cottage without the compromise of low ceiling heights. Fully re-thatched in 2019, this Grade II listed home sits on a generous plot and is presented in standout condition, complemented by two sizable insulated outbuildings/garages, both temperature-controlled with power and light connected.

Upon entering, you are greeted by a wealth of period features, beginning with a welcoming entrance hall that leads to a dining room, a kitchen with a walk-in pantry, and a bright conservatory. A family room, ground floor bathroom, utility room and a cosy lounge complete the generous ground floor accommodation.

Upstairs, the home offers four well-proportioned double bedrooms, an array of built-in storage solutions and an en suite serving bedroom two.

Outside, the property enjoys a substantial plot with gated parking for multiple vehicles, leading to a quadruple car port.

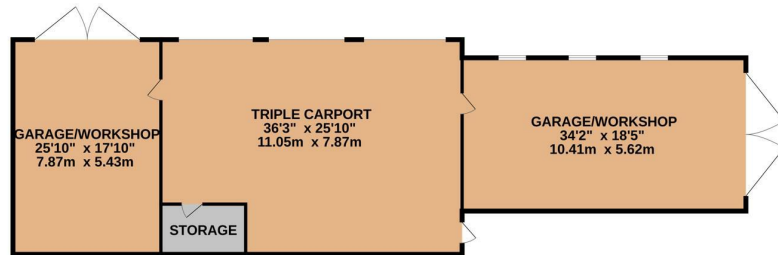

A truly stunning home, steeped in character and charm, that must be viewed to be fully appreciated.
