Set in a desirable position within Corfe Mullen, the property is a surprisingly spacious, well presented and well maintained four-bedroom detached home, thoughtfully designed with a distinctive “upside down” layout to make the most of its far-reaching, rural westerly views.

The accommodation is arranged to maximise light and outlook, with the main living space situated on the upper ground floor. Upon entering, a welcoming entrance porch leads into a hallway with stairs descending to the lower ground floor. The spacious dual aspect sitting/dining room is a particular feature of the home, enjoying an abundance of natural light along with sliding patio doors opening onto a balcony—perfectly positioned to take in the open views and evening sunsets. A feature fireplace with inset wood burner creates a cosy focal point. The kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of base and eye level units, complemented by a built-in double oven and gas hob, with additional space for further white goods. An airing cupboard and internal access to the garage add to the practicality of this level.

On the lower ground floor, a generous hallway provides access to all bedrooms and includes a large walk-in utility cupboard. The main bedroom is well appointed with a comprehensive range of fitted furniture and benefits from an en-suite shower room. There are three further bedrooms, all served by a modern family bathroom fitted with a WC, wash basin, bath and bidet.

Externally, the property continues to impress. To the front, there is driveway parking leading to the garage, which is fitted with an electric roller door, alongside a lawned garden with established planted borders. A side pathway with gated access leads around to the rear garden, where steps descend to a generous patio area—ideal for outdoor entertaining—along with a lawn and further well-stocked borders.
