The cottage is arranged over two floors and offers characterful, well-balanced accommodation. The sitting/dining room is a particularly appealing space, generous in proportion and filled with natural light. Large windows frame the far-reaching views across the lake and surrounding countryside. An exposed brick fireplace adds warmth and texture, providing a natural focal point and reinforcing the cottage's character.

The kitchen sits at the heart of the house and connects easily to a garden room, a peaceful and versatile space that lends itself well to sitting, reading or simply enjoying the outlook through the seasons. Also on the ground floor is a bedroom, a shower room, and internal access to the large double garage, offering excellent storage and practical flexibility.

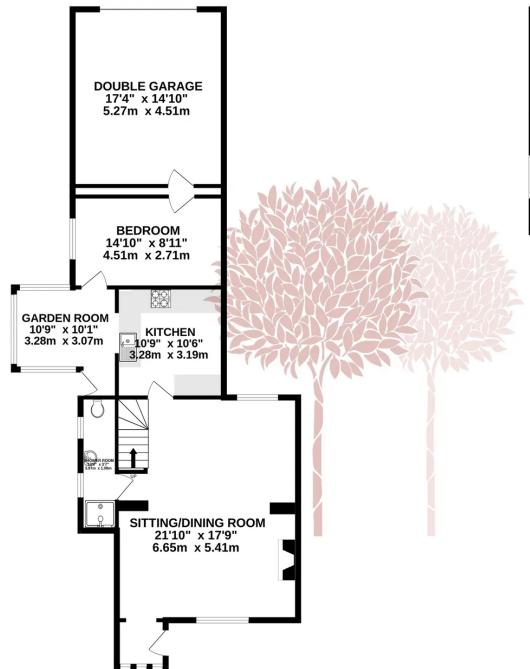

Upstairs, there are two further bedrooms, both well-proportioned, along with a family bathroom. Both bedrooms benefit from elevated views, enhancing the sense of light and space that runs throughout the property.

Outside, the position of the cottage allows the setting to be fully appreciated, with the landscape unfolding beyond the house and creating a strong feeling of privacy while remaining within easy reach of the village.

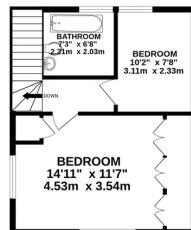

What we love about this property... This cottage's setting is exceptional, tucked on the edge of the village and surrounded by open countryside, offering a sense of peace and privacy. The views are arguably the best in Blagdon, stretching across the lake and beyond, and the property's charm and character are evident throughout, giving it a warm, welcoming feel that is hard to find elsewhere!
