Wheelgate Cottage is a half tile hung Sussex style character house. The L-shaped living/dining room has a through aspect, fireplace with gas fire in situ, French doors in the dining area lead into the garden and further double doors from the living area lead into the conservatory. The conservatory is brick based and has rear access into the garage. The dual aspect kitchen has a small side hall with access to the garden and a downstairs WC.. The study faces to the front and has a cupboard which currently holds the boiler. Upstairs you have all 3 double bedrooms with dual aspects and the family bathroom with separate corner shower.

The private southerly rear garden has 2 levels, a flagstone and tile patio adjoins the property. The private southerly rear garden is tiered to two levels: a large flagstone and tiled patio with powered greenhouse adjoins the property. Whilst flagstone steps lead down to the main garden: predominately laid to lawn with established trees, vegetable garden and a brick outhouse with store. To the front a block brick drive leads to the garage which has electric up/over door. Whilst a flagstone path leads through a front lawn to the property.

Situated within a quarter mile walk of Seaford town centre with its range of shopping facilities, cafes, restaurants and bars, railway station and frequent bus services. Nursery and primary schools are within a few minutes walk. Seaford secondary school and sixth form college, Seaford leisure centre, two golf courses, delightful countryside walks and Seaford beach are all with approximately three quarters of a mile.
