Location

Eccles Way is a small select development situated towards the eastern outskirts of the town. Within easy walking distance is Holt doctors surgery, Gresham's Schools and High Kelling general stores and post office. A public foot path from the development leads to the wooded village of High Kelling and its extensive public footpaths and in turn the heritage coast. The town of Holt was first mentioned in the Domesday Book(1086) when it was credited with five water mills, a market and its own Port of Cley, which was attached to the Holt Manor. In 1708 the great fire of Holt destroyed much of the town centre, which accounts for the Georgian architecture found in the town today. The centre of the town comprises mainly of individual shops and businesses where a friendly and personal service still remains. The town is also home to Gresham's Public School. The North Norfolk coastline is about four miles distant with Salhouse, Cley, Blakeney and Morston all within easy reach. The County City of Norwich is just over twenty miles distant from where there is a fast rail service to London Liverpool Street and an international airport.
