THE PROPERTY

The Laurels is a very attractive detached character house with an excellent range of brick outbuildings including a studio and a workshop, set in beautiful sunny south-facing gardens and occupying a delightful tucked away private setting. It is believed to have been built in circa 1922, having classic red brick elevations. Under the current ownership since 1997, the property has been subject to enlargement and a whole number of improvements to provide a lovely comfortable home.

The well cared for accommodation is both extensive and versatile to suit individual requirements. There is the benefit of an optional ground floor 4th bedroom (currently used as a study) and downstairs shower room for future proofing or for family/guest accommodation, or a dependent relative etc. All the principal accommodation faces south and there are lovely views over the town and surrounding hills, including the well known viewpoint of Edgecombe Hill. There are a number of original features, typical of its era, including high ceilings, deep skirting boards, picture rails, panelled doors and fireplaces and wood burner in the sitting room.

The excellent range of amenities include gas-fired central heating with recently updated boiler, traditional timber double glazed windows, well equipped kitchen (installed by the well known local firm, Dorset Kitchens of Beaminster), with solid wood painted units, granite work surfaces, gas hob and electric double oven, dishwasher, fridge/freezer. Modern shower rooms (first floor shower room has been upgraded fairly recently and has a large walk-in shower) and built-in wardrobes to all of the bedrooms. There is also the big benefit of PV panels, which were installed just two years ago, generating excellent revenue.

Further notable selling features of the property are the lovely, large, sunny south-facing gardens, good parking, garaging and the excellent range of very useful outbuildings, including the studio and a workshop.

The sellers have secured a purchase and there is no forward chain.

Viewing of this lovely home is strongly recommended by the sole agent, Stags.
