St Helens Lane, Borrowby

DESCRIPTION

St Helens Cottage is situated on its own down a lane, but it is far from isolated. It enjoys absolutely stunning far reaching views towards the dales, it is the position and views which set this property apart. There is a small block paved courtyard to the rear, together with gardens to the side and front with a patio area. Further to the front of the property is a paddock of just under an acre with fruit trees and an area fenced off as a vegetable patch making it an ideal prospect for a family seeking outdoor space or a small holder.

The house itself is fully double glazed and enjoys very effective cavity wall insulation and oil fired central heating. The house consists of a large hallway, three reception rooms, a good sized farmhouse style dining kitchen, beyond the kitchen is a utility room which leads in to a study, and beyond this is a magnificent room converted from an old barn with hay loft to provide a very spacious room with spiral staircase to the Mezzanine level which could provide a very special work from home space. In addition on the ground floor is a large conservatory used a great deal at one stage for teenage parties! There are five substantial bedrooms (two with en-suite) on the first floor and the large house bathroom.

Externally there is an old stable (fronting on to the little inner courtyard) providing storage and workshop space. There is an old wooden garage situated in the paddock standing on a concrete base. Immediately to the front of the property there is ample space for several cars on the block paved area.

ROOMS

Borrowby

Borrowby is a typical Yorkshire village situated half way between Northallerton and Thirsk with easy access on to the A19 going both North and South, with York 25 miles south and the Yorkshire Dales to the West. It has a popular local primary school graded Good by Ofstead. There is also the large Hillside Rural Activity Park nearby consisting of play area, the local Scout Hut, Large playing field, tennis courts, football pitches and cricket club. The venue is also used for the well known Borrowby Show in July every year. It is a very vibrant community with many activities centering on the village Hall and the cosy Wheatsheaf pub frequented by locals of all ages.

Directions

Proceed through Borrowby, passing the Wheatsheaf Inn on your left hand side, continue travelling uphill toward the top of the village. Pass the speed restriction signs then take the next left hand turn onto St Helen's lane (sign posted as a bridleway). The cottage is situated at the end of the lane. For viewings, please park in the paddock.

Gardens

There is a side garden separated from the front garden by iron railing fencing, making it enclosed for children and pets. Both are traditionally planted with flower beds, shrubs and lawns with a patio area in the side garden accessed via the conservatory.

Paddock

Grass paddock of just under one acre could be put to many uses and adds to the appeal of this semi rural property. The fruit trees and vegetable patch are waiting to provide sustenance to another family! There is on the paddock an old wooden garage standing on a solid concrete base together with further parking.

Vendors Statement

We have been at St Helen's for over 30 years and have happily brought up four children here who were all educated locally and fully enjoyed village life with Cubs, Brownies, Scouts and various sporting activities on offer locally. The house is large but not overwhelming and easy to run, it is a friendly house. The house garden is easy to manage with the paddock providing scope for several projects. We will be very sad to leave but feel it is time for another family to enjoy St Helen's.

The property benefits from Solar Panels.

Please note, the property is not on mains drainage and operates on a Septic Tank.
