37 Percy Street Eastwood Nottingham NG16

A splendid traditional detached circa 1903 home, beautifully combining original character and period features with generous and versatile accommodation.

The property opens into an inviting entrance hall with original front door and sympathetically recreated tiled flooring, leading through to the heart of the home a magnificent extended living kitchen and dining space. This impressive room features a central island and lovely views over the extensive rear garden.

The property also benefits from a separate lounge, complete with an original fireplace, cornicing, coving and picture rail, creating a warm and characterful additional reception space.

To the first floor, a spacious landing leads to three generous double bedrooms, with the master bedroom benefiting from an en-suite shower and WC and a family bathroom.

Stairs continue to the second floor, where there is a further double bedroom, dressing area and WC with wash basin.

Outside, the property has an attractive traditional frontage with a charming topiary archway entrance, original tiled open porch leads to the original front door. A large drive-through garage provides access to the extensive rear parking area and gardens, with utility and W.C.

The impressive rear garden is a real feature, with extensive lawns, established planted borders, trees, shrubs and flowers, together with a large patio seating areas. A range of substantial brick-built outbuildings provides excellent storage and includes a useful outdoor office. A large covered parking carport with light and power and additional large storage area can also be found to the rear.

A truly characterful and spacious home, offering an excellent combination of original features, generous accommodation and extensive outdoor space. The property and gardens really do need to be seen to be fully appreciated.
