This substantial 1920s detached home offers a rare blend of character and scale in the highly regarded Swiss Valley. Over the years the property has been thoughtfully extended, creating a spacious family home that retains its original charm while offering generous and versatile living accommodation. Now requiring some modernisation, it presents an excellent opportunity for a buyer to update and personalise a home with an impressive footprint and huge potential. Its unusual layout, combined with dual-road access, provides a level of flexibility rarely found in the current market.

The ground floor is well suited to both entertaining and everyday family life, with a large living room, a formal dining room and a separate family room. The kitchen sits at the heart of the home and connects well with the adjoining breakfast room and living areas. On the first floor there are four well-proportioned bedrooms and three bathrooms, including a principal bedroom with en-suite. A particularly unique feature on this level is the integrated Swedish-style sauna, creating a private spa-like space within the home. The top floor provides a substantial games room with its own kitchenette area, making it ideal for a teenager's retreat, independent relative or even a dedicated home office suite.

Externally, the property is equally impressive. The mature rear gardens are a standout feature, enjoying a peaceful wooded backdrop. The grounds have been carefully arranged to include several patio areas, gazebos, a summerhouse, timber cabins and conservatories offering plenty of space to relax or entertain. Unusually, the property benefits from two separate driveways and a garage, with access from both Walton Road and Nortons Wood Lane. This dual access may also present scope for further development or the creation of a detached annex/dwelling, subject to the necessary consents.

Located in the ever-popular Swiss Valley, the property enjoys a highly desirable setting. The area is well served by respected primary and secondary schools, while local amenities are close by, including the Old Inn and an M&S Food for everyday convenience. All of this sits within the attractive natural surroundings that make Swiss Valley such a sought-after place to live.

Overall, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a home of real scale and character that is ready for its next phase. Whether you are a growing family looking for a property to modernise, or a buyer seeking a home with genuine development potential, this impressive 1920s residence offers a wealth of possibilities.

“An impressive 1920s home offering exceptional space, character and exciting potential in the heart of Swiss Valley.”
