DESCRIPTION

Rockhill House is an individual and characterful home offering deceptively spacious accommodation arranged over two floors.

Internally, the property retains a number of attractive period features, including exposed timbers and a particularly impressive stone fireplace within the sitting room, whilst more recent improvements have introduced a contemporary finish to key areas of the house.

The ground floor is centred around two particularly good-sized living spaces. The sitting room extends to approximately 19' and provides ample room for a variety of furniture, with the exposed stone fireplace and wood burning stove forming a real focal point. Alongside is the kitchen/dining room, which has been stylishly refitted with an attractive range of shaker-style units, contrasting work surfaces and integrated cooking appliances, whilst retaining plenty of space for a dining table.

There is also a useful entrance porch/conservatory together with a separate ground floor WC/utility room.

On the first floor are two well-proportioned double bedrooms, both benefiting from useful built-in storage, together with a modern shower room fitted with a contemporary suite. Exposed timber detailing within the shower room adds further character.

Outside, the house enjoys a private courtyard-style area providing space for seating and potted plants. There is also off-road parking together with a separate garage.
