Torridge Gardens, SE15

A beautifully presented three bedroom post-war end of terrace freehold home, offering approximately 950 sqft of living space and a particularly large south west facing private garden. The house has a distinctive Scandi inspired feel throughout, with clean lines, natural materials and excellent natural light. The ground floor is centred around a bright and spacious reception and dining room, with large windows and direct access onto the garden. A separate kitchen also overlooks the rear, while the end-of-terrace position gives the house an added sense of light and privacy. Upstairs are three well-proportioned bedrooms, finished in a simple Scandinavian style with wooden floors and large windows. The standout feature is the substantial south-west facing garden, beautifully established with mature planting and plenty of space for entertaining, dining and relaxing throughout the afternoon and evening.

Torridge Gardens is a quiet residential setting in SE15, well positioned for the cafés, restaurants and independent shops of Peckham and Nunhead, as well as excellent transport connections into central London.
