

Welcome to
*High Street,
Ibstock*

A substantial period property in the heart of Ibstock, combining space, character and potential.

Set behind its handsome red-brick façade, this impressive home offers generous accommodation and a wealth of period features throughout.

With a large private garden, original detailing and an enviable village location, it's a home that perfectly balances heritage charm with everyday practicality.

PREVIOUS HOUSING ALLOCATION – IB20

The property forms part of land that was previously identified within the IB20 housing allocation, which envisaged potential for approximately 46 dwellings across the wider area.

A development option was subsequently pursued but expired without being renewed by all landowners, and no planning application was submitted.

There are therefore no current development proposals. However, the property's previous association with the IB20 allocation may offer longer-term potential, subject to any future planning policy, landowner agreement and the necessary consents.

High Street, Ibstock

An exceptional plot extending to almost an acre.

A rare opportunity in the heart of Ibstock, this substantial period property sits within beautifully established grounds offering space, privacy and endless possibilities.

The vast garden is mainly laid to lawn with mature trees and established borders – ideal for family life and future potential (subject to any necessary consents).

WALKIN PANTRY

GARDEN ROOM / SUN ROOM

Garden room / sun room, approached directly from the impressive T-shaped entrance hall, providing a particularly versatile additional living space. The room features full-height glazing along the side and rear elevations, creating a light and airy environment with far-reaching views across the side and rear grounds and direct access into the garden. There is also convenient access to the cloakroom, making this a practical as well as attractive extension to the main accommodation.

FIRST FLOOR

First-floor landing with an impressive double-height feel and an abundance of natural light. A particularly attractive leaded glass bay window creates a striking focal point, with a deep polished timber sill and views across the surrounding rooftops and neighbourhood. The landing retains a wealth of period character, including decorative ceiling cornicing, traditional balustrading and a sweeping polished timber handrail, while providing access to the first-floor bedrooms and accommodation.

BEDROOM

13' 11" x 14' 4" (4.26m x 4.37m)

Generous double bedroom with attractive period proportions and a wealth of character. The room features a traditional fireplace with decorative surround, a tall sash window with views towards the surrounding properties, and a useful built-in cupboard beneath the window. There is also a large en-suite shower area, incorporating a curved shower enclosure and raised tiled platform, making this a comfortable and versatile bedroom.

PRINCIPLE BEDROOM

16' 9" x 17' 7" (5.13m x 5.38m)

Generously proportioned double bedroom with an attractive period character and excellent natural light. The room features a traditional fireplace with a painted surround, together with a tall sash window overlooking the rear gardens and grounds. There is ample space for a range of bedroom furniture, creating a calm and elegant bedroom with excellent proportions.

DRESSING ROOM

The tall sash window provides excellent natural light, while the room offers good proportions and ample space for bedroom furniture. Airing Cupboard

BATHROOM

Family bathroom with a practical three-piece suite comprising a panelled bath with curved shower enclosure, WC and pedestal wash hand basin. The room is fully tiled with a decorative border, while a large window provides good natural light. A raised tiled area creates a defined bathing zone, with attractive traditional proportions throughout.

OUTSIDE

The grounds are a particular feature of the property, extending to approximately an acre , offering an exceptional degree of privacy and seclusion. Enclosed by substantial brick walls and mature planting, the gardens incorporate sweeping lawns, established trees and well-stocked flower, rose and shrub borders, together with areas suitable for tennis or croquet. A productive orchard provide a further established feature, while the rear grounds also include a substantial double garage and yard, accessed through double gates, providing excellent space for parking and additional vehicles. There is a shed/workshop, coal shed and greenhouse.

HISTORIC SETTING & ARCHITECTURAL CHARACTER

The property is situated within the Ibstock Conservation Area and occupies a prominent position within the historic High Street. The Council's Conservation Area Character Appraisal identifies 111 High Street as having landmark value, with its distinctive full-height bay window contributing to the character and long views along the High Street.

Historically, the cottage was constructed first, with the adjoining house being built at a later date and subsequently abutting the original cottage. The properties are therefore physically adjoining today, although 111 High Street originated as a separate dwelling and was not originally constructed as part of a conventional semi-detached pair. This unusual evolution contributes to the individual character and architectural interest of the property.

IBSTOCK

A village with character, community and countryside on the doorstep

Ibstock offers a particularly appealing blend of traditional village character and everyday convenience. Set in North West Leicestershire, it has a strong sense of community, a rich heritage and easy access to the surrounding countryside and National Forest.

The village dates back well beyond the Norman period and has an unusually rich heritage, including its medieval church, historic houses and connections with the Leicestershire coalfield.

Today, Ibstock is a substantial and established village, with local shops, schools, leisure facilities, community organisations and a good range of housing. Its position on the A447 places Coalville close by, with Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Hinckley and Leicester all readily accessible by road. The wider road network also provides access towards the A42 and M42.

IBSTOCK OVERVIEW

WHY PEOPLE CHOOSE IBSTOCK

VILLAGE LIVING

A genuine community rather than simply a residential suburb, with a strong local identity.

COUNTRYSIDE & NATIONAL FOREST

Open countryside, woodland and walking opportunities are close at hand.

CHARACTER PROPERTIES

Alongside modern housing, Ibstock retains a collection of period homes.

CONVENIENT LOCATION

Well placed for Coalville, Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Hinckley, Leicester and the wider East Midlands.

A BROAD APPEAL

Attracts families, professionals, downsizers and buyers looking for more space without being isolated.

“ For us, Ibstock is about more than property prices and postcodes.
It is about understanding the character of the village, the homes within it and the people who want to live here. ”
