THE PROPERTY

Occupying an idyllic position, Denches Cottage is a charming semi-detached home enjoying a picturesque setting, with the gentle waters of the River Piddle meandering along the front boundary. Surrounded by mature trees, attractive cottage gardens and the characterful architecture, the property offers a rare opportunity to acquire a quintessential Dorset cottage in a truly enchanting location.

Approached via the village lane, the cottage presents beautifully beneath its traditional thatched roof. The river frontage creates an ever-changing backdrop throughout the seasons, lending a sense of tranquillity and connection to the surrounding countryside.

Internally, the accommodation extends to approximately 1,060 sq ft and is arranged over two floors. The sitting room is a particularly attractive space, enjoying generous proportions and pleasant views across the gardens and river beyond. The dining room is to the front of the cottage, linking naturally to the kitchen, which is fitted with a range of floor and wall mounted units. A useful cloakroom completes the ground floor accommodation.

The first floor has three well-proportioned bedrooms, all enjoying a peaceful outlook and a family bathroom. The principal bedroom has an en suite shower room.

OUTSIDE

The setting is undoubtedly one of the property's defining features. The cottage front garden gently slope towards the River Piddle. Mature shrubs, established planting and specimen trees provide colour, privacy and seasonal interest, whilst the sound of the river contributes to the calm and relaxing atmosphere.

To the rear, the property benefits from a beautifully maintained cottage garden, thoughtfully landscaped to provide an attractive yet low-maintenance outdoor space. Decorative gravel pathways weave through well-stocked borders and ornamental planting.

There is also a double carport, providing covered parking for two vehicles together with useful storage space.
