cottage
located in Imachar
Pirnmill

Cnoc Na Coille is in Imachar - an elevated hamlet situated just south of Pirnmill on the north-west coast of the Isle of Arran. Renowned for its dramatic shoreline and fascinating geology, Imachar offers a truly unique coastal landscape, where smooth pebbles, striking rock formations and weather-sculpted outcrops create an ever-changing seascape. The area enjoys wonderful views across the Kilbrannan Sound towards the Kintyre Peninsula, with spectacular sunsets being a particular feature.

Cnoc Na Coille or "Hill of the Wood" is a charming cottage located high above the Imachar shore line with views across the Kilbrannan Sound and the Kintyre Peninsula.

The beach at Imachar is often described as one of Arran's hidden gems, with its distinctive grey, canyon-like rocks and ancient geological formations reflecting the island's reputation as "Scotland in Miniature". The coastline is rich in natural beauty and wildlife, while nearby coastal walks lead towards Pirnmill, and the surrounding countryside.

Despite its peaceful and rural setting, Imachar is conveniently close to the amenities of Pirnmill, including the village shop, community facilities and access to some of Arran's finest walking routes, including Beinn Bharrain, Coire Fhionn Lochan and the Arran Coastal Way. The area and Cnoc Na Coille offer a tranquil lifestyle, combining stunning scenery, a strong sense of community and easy access to the island's outstanding natural environment.

A little more information

Cnoc Na Coille has undergone recent, thoughtful, amount of work to update it, providing warmth, clean water and excellent access.

Pirnmill Village is a beautiful little gem on the west coast of Arran, with a peaceful, timeless charm. Nestled between the hills and the sea, it has a wonderfully relaxed feel — the kind of place where you can enjoy quiet walks, stunning sunsets, and the simple pleasure of watching the waves roll in across the Firth of Clyde. Its small community, coastal views, and unspoilt surroundings give Pirnmill a special character. It feels like a place where nature takes centre stage, offering a perfect escape for anyone looking for tranquillity, fresh air, and a slower pace of life.

Pirnmill is a welcoming and close-knit village on the west coast of the Isle of Arran, where community spirit and natural beauty come together.

The village has a much-loved Post Office and shop, providing groceries, everyday essentials, and an off-sales service for local residents and visitors alike. The village is also home to a local school, helping to support families within the community. Older pupils travel to Lamlash High School, with daily bus transport provided, ensuring they can continue their education while remaining part of village life. A popular feature of Pirnmill is the Lighthouse Restaurant, a place to enjoy good food and the stunning coastal views that make this part of Arran so special.

The Isle of Arran is a place where you can find a little bit of everything you could ever want from a Scottish island; an ever-changing coastline, dramatic mountain peaks, sheltered beaches, verdant forests, great cultural festivals and a wealth of tasty local produce.
