The Laurels, situated in an area of outstanding natural beauty in the popular Chew Valley village of East Harptree, is a beautifully presented and carefully maintained property with a gorgeous well-established garden at the rear which adjoins open fields.

From the first floor there are impressive far reaching countryside views and whilst enjoying an essentially rural location, the house feels connected to the village. The cities of Bath and Bristol are approximately equidistant at about a half an hour's drive making The Laurels perfect for commuters or families wanting to join one of the excellent schools in the area.

An impressive spacious hallway sits centrally with access to superb reception rooms that connect the house with the beautiful garden via large windows and doors to the patio that borders the house. Leading off the hallway to the right is a suite of rooms that could very easily be configured as an annexe by incorporating the property's boot room, which has outside access, as a kitchen dining area. As it stands currently the area provides a ground floor bedroom with en-suite, and additional bathroom and sitting room.

The Laurels enjoys a kitchen that is open to a lovely south-west facing garden room providing a gorgeous place to sit and enjoy views of the garden and informal dining. There are doors out to a patio area, making this configuration perfect for heading outside with a coffee or lunch to enjoy the garden. A separate more formal dining room is easily accessed from the kitchen and would make an excellent home office with the potential to have a door leading from outside so visitors could come and go without disturbing the household. The kitchen itself is very well presented and easy to work in with an attractive range of fitted cream wall and floor units while a smart navy-blue Aga is complemented by turquoise wall tiles. Traditional oak flooring runs through the kitchen and garden room adding a countryside feel.

A superb reception room leads off the kitchen providing a living room that welcomes with space and light. This room is perfect for accommodating family and friends while entertaining and is fitted with a second set of double doors that open the room up to the garden.

Completing the ground floor accommodation, the practicalities are catered for with a utility room that lies adjacent to the kitchen providing a recently fitted supplementary electric oven and access to the garage.

A light and elegant stairwell rises to the first floor where it is met by a spacious galleried landing that leads on to four bedrooms and a family bathroom. The principal bedroom enjoys a double aspect with far reaching countryside views over the Chew Valley area that lies to the front of the property. The room also benefits from fitted double wardrobes. The family bathroom, with separate bath and shower, has been cleverly fitted with Jack and Jill doors and can be accessed from the principal bedroom thereby providing an en-suite to the principal bedroom and from the hallway to serve the additional bedrooms. A second bedroom with fitted double wardrobes is currently configured as a study with the desk positioned to make the most of the same glorious front facing views of the Chew Valley. Two further double bedrooms are well proportioned with one having access to a large storage area with a generous airing cupboard completing the first floor

Outside

Set in approximately three quarters of an acre of grounds the exceptional garden can be first glimpsed on arrival at The Laurels where there is a pedestrian gate leading through to the rear garden from the well-kept gravel parking area at the front door. Walking through the garden is a truly immersive experience which is reminiscent in places of an arboretum.

There is a beautiful well-established mix of evergreen and deciduous specimen trees including the stunning Magnolias which put on a spectacular show in early spring and atmospheric aged Weeping Birches.

Planted beds and a pond have been created to blend and complement the lawn and trees which creates a journey through the garden with something interesting and delightful to see at each turn.

Larger shrubs, herbaceous planting and bulbs layer the garden with structural and seasonal interest with a more open lawned area leading to raised beds and the all-important composting area. This is a garden enthusiasts dream spot. A patio that can be accessed from the garden and sitting rooms frames the rear of the property and is bordered by pretty planted beds with a few shallow steps up to the garden. Further parking is available on the other side of the house to the front of the double garage where there is also an external door into the boot room.
