Nestled within a generous, mature plot, Windsor Lodge is an impressive five bedroom detached residence with a fascinating history. Formerly the home of the Duke of Windsor, one of the most intriguing figures of the early 20th century, the property offers a rare opportunity to own a home with a genuine historical connection.

Surrounded by beautifully established gardens, the property enjoys an exceptional level of privacy, with expansive lawns, mature planting and a variety of peaceful outdoor spaces. Whether relaxing with family, entertaining friends or simply enjoying the setting, the gardens provide a wonderful extension of the home, while also offering scope for further landscaping or enhancement, subject to the necessary permissions.

A significant further benefit is the detached garage, offering an excellent opportunity to create a substantial three-bedroom two-storey home, with full planning permission already granted.

Occupying a highly regarded position on the edge of Melton Mowbray, Windsor Lodge is within comfortable walking distance of the town centre. The popular market town offers an excellent range of independent shops, cafés, restaurants and everyday amenities, combining the convenience of town living with the privacy and space of this outstanding setting.

Accommodation:

Stepping inside, the accommodation is both spacious and versatile, beginning with a welcoming triple-aspect sitting room centred around an attractive feature fireplace. The heart of the home is the impressive open-plan kitchen/dining room, complemented by a separate formal dining room, a useful study and a convenient ground floor shower room.

The first floor continues to impress, offering five generously proportioned bedrooms together with a spacious four-piece family bathroom.

Gardens and land:

The generous wrap-around gardens are a particular feature of the property, offering extensive lawns, mature planting and a variety of seating terraces that provide the perfect setting for relaxing or entertaining. A substantial double garage with an adjoining workshop completes the outside space, offering excellent storage, parking or potential for a range of hobbies.
