Situated in the sought-after village of Oxenholme, this charming traditional red-brick railway cottage enjoys lovely views towards The Helm and offers stylish, generously proportioned accommodation throughout. Beautifully presented with high ceilings and plenty of natural light, the property blends character and comfort perfectly. The spacious lounge/diner features solid oak flooring, an exposed brick fireplace with multi-fuel stove and glazed doors opening onto the south-facing courtyard garden, creating excellent indoor-outdoor flow. The modern kitchen provides a practical and attractive space for cooking, with direct access outside. Upstairs are two generous double bedrooms and a well-appointed three-piece bathroom. Externally, the enclosed courtyard garden offers a peaceful space to relax, complete with potted planting and a secure garden store.
