A Much-Loved Family Home

A Rare Opportunity in the Heart of Grangetown

Some homes are simply houses. Others become part of a family's story. Cherished by the same family since 1964, this much-loved three-bedroom semi-detached home represents a genuinely rare opportunity to acquire a property that has been a treasured family home for more than six decades.

Occupying a generous corner plot in the heart of Grangetown, the property offers something increasingly difficult to find in such a well-connected Cardiff location; excellent living space, a substantial garden, private driveway, off-road parking and genuine potential to create a home perfectly suited to modern family life.

Olivia Louise are please to present to the market for the first time in over 60 years and offered with no onward chain following probate, this is a property with history, space and enormous potential.

For the next owner, this is an opportunity not simply to purchase a house, but to take on the next chapter of a home that has already been loved, lived in and enjoyed for generations.

A Home Full of Possibility

Approached via its own private driveway, the property immediately benefits from the unusual advantage of a generous corner position, providing a sense of space rarely associated with properties so close to the city centre.

Inside, the accommodation is well proportioned and practical, offering the flexibility that modern family life demands. The ground floor provides a welcoming hallway entrance leading through to the principal living accommodation.

The bright front living room provides a comfortable space in which to relax, while the impressive through lounge creates a particularly versatile area for family life, dining, entertaining or simply enjoying time together.

With its generous proportions and natural flow, the through lounge could readily be adapted to suit the needs of a growing family, perhaps creating defined living and dining zones while retaining that wonderful feeling of openness.

To the rear is the extended kitchen, an addition made approximately 50 years ago and testament to the way this home has evolved with the family over the decades.

The kitchen provides an excellent foundation for the next owner, with plenty of scope to modernise and create a contemporary family kitchen or open-plan entertaining space, subject to any necessary consents.

Upstairs, there are three well-proportioned bedrooms, together with the family bathroom.

The accommodation provides a superb opportunity for a purchaser looking for space to grow into, while also offering exciting possibilities for those wishing to modernise and personalise their surroundings.

A Generous Plot

One of the property's most appealing features is the size and versatility of the plot.

The home occupies a generous corner position, with a front garden, private driveway and off-road parking, while the rear garden provides valuable outdoor space for family life.

For families, the garden offers room for children to play, outdoor dining, entertaining and gardening. For keen gardeners, there is scope to create something truly special.

For those looking at the property with an eye to the future, the plot also provides an exciting blank canvas for landscaping, subject of course to any required permissions or consents.

In a location where outdoor space is increasingly prized, the combination of a substantial plot, parking and gardens is a significant advantage.

The Opportunity to Create Something Special

This is not a home that needs to tell you what it should become. Instead, it offers the next owner the opportunity to make it their own.

Whether your vision is a sympathetic refurbishment that retains the character and proportions of a much-loved family home, or a more comprehensive programme of modernisation, this property offers a fantastic foundation.

Imagine creating a beautiful contemporary kitchen, updating the family bathroom, introducing your own style throughout and transforming the garden into an extension of the living space.

The result could be a wonderful modern family home in one of Cardiff's most conveniently positioned residential areas.

Location is one of the property's greatest strengths. Grangetown is a vibrant and established Cardiff community, ideally positioned between the city centre and Cardiff Bay, making it particularly attractive to families, professionals and those looking for a home that keeps everyday life within easy reach.

The area offers a wonderfully convenient mixture of established residential streets, local shops, cafés, supermarkets and everyday services.

Whether you are heading out for the weekly shop, meeting friends for coffee, taking the children to the park or travelling into the city for work or leisure, much of what you need is close at hand. And when you want to enjoy everything Cardiff has to offer, the city centre is only a short distance away.

What's on Your Doorstep

One of the great lifestyle advantages of living in this part of Cardiff is the proximity to Cardiff Bay.

Once an industrial dockland, the Bay has been transformed into one of the city's most recognisable destinations and provides an exceptional choice of places to eat, drink, shop, explore and relax.

Enjoy a meal overlooking the water, take a leisurely stroll around the waterfront, visit the Wales Millennium Centre or explore the many attractions and leisure opportunities around the Bay.

The area also provides access to some of Cardiff's most popular waterfront walks and cycle routes, making it easy to escape the feeling of city living without actually leaving the city.

For families, couples and professionals alike, having this combination of city, waterfront and green space nearby creates a particularly appealing lifestyle.

Cardiff City Centre - The city centre is another major attraction. From shopping and restaurants to entertainment, culture, nightlife and employment, Cardiff offers everything you would expect from a thriving capital city.

The property is particularly well positioned for those who want to enjoy city living while still having the benefit of a traditional family home with its own garden and parking.

Cardiff Central Station provides extensive rail connections, while the city's extensive bus network makes commuting and getting around the wider area straightforward.

For those who work in the city, study locally or simply enjoy having restaurants, shops and entertainment close by, this is a location that makes everyday life exceptionally convenient.

Excellent Transport Connections

For commuters, the property is particularly well placed. Grangetown railway station provides direct rail connections towards Cardiff Central and onwards through the wider Cardiff network, with current Transport for Wales services also connecting towards destinations including Penarth, Barry and the Rhymney/Coryton directions.

Cardiff Central Station is also readily accessible, providing an important national rail hub for journeys across South Wales and beyond. Road connections are equally convenient, with access towards the A4232 and the wider M4 motorway network, making the property well suited to commuters travelling by car.

For those who prefer to leave the car at home, the combination of local bus services and nearby rail connections provides an excellent alternative.

In short, this is a home that offers the best of both worlds; a peaceful family setting with the wider city and transport network readily accessible.

Schools & Family Life

For families, education is naturally an important consideration, and Grangetown provides access to a choice of primary and secondary schools within the wider Cardiff area.

Grangetown Primary School is located within the local community, while families can also explore the wider selection of Cardiff primary and secondary schools according to their preferred language provision and individual requirements. Cardiff Council provides an online school and catchment search using the property's postcode.

The Council currently advises parents to research individual schools and catchment arrangements when making applications, as living within a catchment area does not itself guarantee a place.

This makes the location particularly appealing to families looking for the convenience of established schools, parks, leisure facilities and everyday amenities all within the wider neighbourhood.

A Place to Put Down Roots

Perhaps the greatest appeal of this property is its potential to become what it once was — a much-loved family home.

For more than 60 years, this house has provided a backdrop to family life. Now, the opportunity has arisen for a new owner to bring their own ideas, style and personality to the property.

The generous plot provides space outside. The three bedrooms provide space upstairs. The living accommodation provides flexibility downstairs. The location provides connectivity to everything Cardiff has to offer.

And importantly, the property is being offered with no onward chain, providing an attractive opportunity for purchasers looking to move without the complications of a connected sale.

The Perfect Blank Canvas

There is something particularly exciting about a house that gives you the opportunity to see beyond what is there today. This property offers exactly that. A home with history. A generous plot. Excellent proportions. Private parking. A substantial garden. Three bedrooms. A highly convenient location. And the opportunity to modernise and create something genuinely personal.

Whether you are a family looking for your next long-term home, a purchaser searching for a property with potential, or someone who appreciates the opportunity to take an established house and transform it into something special, this property deserves your attention. Properties offering this combination of history, plot, space, parking and location rarely come to the market.

This is a home that has been loved for over six decades. Now it is ready for its next chapter.

Don't Miss the Opportunity

With its generous corner plot, three bedrooms, excellent living accommodation, private driveway, gardens and outstanding position close to Cardiff Bay and the city centre, this is a property that needs to be seen to be fully appreciated. The front garden is approached through two separate gates, offering both pedestrian and vehicular access. One provides a convenient pathway to the front entrance, while the second gives access to the private paved driveway, allowing you to pull directly onto the property with ease. The front garden combines a neatly paved driveway with an area of lawn, creating a practical yet attractive approach to the home while providing valuable off-road parking. Adding real character to the property's kerb appeal are the two beautiful bay-fronted windows, which provide a wonderful focal point to the front elevation and hint at the generous proportions and traditional feel found within.
