Plymouth

Plymouth, Britain's Ocean City, is one of Europe's most vibrant waterfront cities. Located in one of the most beautiful locations imaginable, Plymouth is sandwiched between the incredible South West coastline and the wild beauty of Dartmoor National Park. Plymouth is 37 miles south-west of Exeter and 190 miles west-south-west of London, between the mouths of the rivers Plym to the east and Tamar to the west where they join Plymouth Sound to form the boundary with Cornwall, it is also home to one of the most natural harbours in the world. To the North of Plymouth is Dartmoor National Park, extending to over 300 square miles, which provides excellent recreational facilities.

The city is home to more than 260,000 people, making it the 30th most populated city in the United Kingdom and the second-largest city in the South West, after Bristol and has a full range of shopping, educational and sporting facilities. There is mainline train service to London (Paddington) and to Penzance in West Cornwall. There's everything that you would expect to find in a cool, cultural city, with great shopping, arts and entertainment. But there's also hundreds of years of history to uncover, from Sir Francis Drake and the Spanish Armada to the Mayflower sailing in 1620, to a city rebuilt following the Blitz during World War II. With easy access to Exeter and its International Airport and a mainline train station giving direct access to London and a ferry port offering sea crossings to both France and Spain.

Plymouth is governed locally by Plymouth City Council and is represented nationally by three MPs. Plymouth's economy remains strongly influenced by shipbuilding and seafaring including ferry links to Brittany and Spain, but has tended toward a university economy since the early 2000's. It has the largest operational naval base in Western Europe - HMNB Devonport.

Milehouse

Milehouse is a late Victorian and 1930s suburb of Plymouth. Formerly it was famous for the site of Outland House, the large family home of Robert Falcon Scott, who led the tragic British expedition to the South Pole. The area borders Plymouth's huge Central Park and is adjacent to Home Park, the ground of Plymouth Argyle football club. It is a reputable area with good facilities and is convenient to the city centre, the nightlife zones, the parkland and the main road in and out of town. The area is held in high regard by young and old families alike, due to its proximity to amenities such as the Britannia (Wetherspoons pub), Home Park, Life Centre and is a perfect location for those that commute both into town, northbound to Derriford Hospital and the science and business parks via the A38 dual carriageway.

More Property Information

The property boasts three generously sized bedrooms, each filled with natural light and two featuring built-in wardrobes, providing ample storage space. The well-maintained rear garden is a delightful retreat, complete with composite decking, 10 mil balustrade toughened glass and lush greenery, offering a peaceful outdoor space to unwind. Additionally, there is a utility area for the washing machine, enhancing the practicality of this lovely home.

Benefiting from a cellar the length of the house, with previous planning permission to build down and full boarded loft, this property has potential to expand.

Situated close to local amenities, shops, and schools, this property is perfectly positioned for convenience. Early viewing is strongly advised to fully appreciate the charm and quality this home has to offer. Don't miss the opportunity to make this exquisite property your own.
