The property is located towards the favoured southerly side of Tunbridge Wells town centre, indeed whilst the location is quiet and somewhat devoid of passing traffic, it is far more central than this would suggest with the Pantiles and Old High Street being only a short walking distance away. Tunbridge Wells itself is quite rightly renowned for its Georgian heritage and both Victorian and Edwardian architecture, the town is impressively individual in its style with an excellent range of independent retailers and restaurants located principally between Mount Pleasant and the Pantiles with a further range of primarily multiple retailers at the Royal Victoria Place shopping precinct and nearby North Farm Park. The town has a good range of social facilities including a number of sports and social clubs and two theatres and remains permanently popular with Londoners as a result of its educational facilities which include a good number of well regarded schools at primary, secondary, independent and grammar levels. The town has excellent transport links via the A21 trunk road that runs to both the M25 and the south coast alongside two mainline railway stations with fast and frequent services to London termini.
