Bedrooms 2

Step inside this extended two bedroom detached bungalow on Princethorpe Way in Binley and it feels like the kind of home that quietly whispers stay a while. Tucked away in a peaceful cul de sac, it has that rare blend of calm neighbourhood living with everything you need just a short hop away. The current owners have loved it for twenty seven years, and it shows in the way every corner feels cared for, practical and easy to live in. There is a gentle brightness that follows you through the day thanks to excellent natural light, giving each room a fresh, welcoming feel that makes even the ordinary moments feel a little softer.

Stepping inside, the first impression is one of light and ease. Natural daylight flows through the home beautifully, giving every space a bright, airy feel that lifts the mood as you move from room to room. The entrance hall provides a simple, welcoming introduction before leading you into a lounge that feels made for unwinding. It is the kind of space where evenings naturally slow down, where shoes come off, shoulders drop and the outside world feels a little further away. Just beyond, the dining room offers a flexible and inviting setting, equally suited to shared meals, long conversations, or even a relaxed work from home setup that doesn't feel restrictive.

The kitchen sits at the heart of the practical side of the home, fitted with a built in electric oven and gas hob. It is not trying to be showy, instead it is honest and functional, giving you everything you need to cook with ease while also offering the opportunity to make it your own over time. A useful utility room adds real day to day convenience, linking the house neatly to the garage and providing direct access out to the garden, making everything feel connected and easy to manage.

Upstairs, the sense of calm continues. The main bedroom is a comfortable retreat with space for a double bed and wardrobes, offering a restful place to switch off at the end of the day. The second bedroom is also a generous double, complete with a small built in wardrobe and the added benefit of its own en suite shower room, giving it a slightly private, almost self contained feel that is ideal for guests, older children or simply a bit of extra flexibility. The family bathroom is fresh and well kept, finished with tiled walls and a white three piece suite with shower over the bath, offering a simple and relaxing space that works perfectly for everyday life.

Outside, the rear garden feels like a gentle escape. A patio sits just outside the back door, ideal for morning coffee or a quiet evening sit, before the space opens out into a lush lawn surrounded by mature borders that bring colour, texture and a sense of privacy as the seasons change. To the front, a block paved driveway provides easy off road parking alongside a neat lawned garden that adds to the home's welcoming feel.

With new windows installed in 2021, a well cared for interior throughout, and a location close to the A46, Warwickshire Retail Park, Alan Higgs Leisure Centre, the hospital and Asda Whitley, this is a home that balances peace and practicality with real ease. It is the sort of place that quietly fits into your life and somehow feels like it has always been there.
