Interior

A generous entrance porch provides a practical welcome to the home, offering plenty of space for coats and boots after days spent exploring the surrounding countryside.

At the heart of the property is an impressive triple-aspect sitting room, where large windows frame uninterrupted views across the surrounding landscape. A traditional inglenook fireplace with wood-burning stove creates a welcoming focal point, while French doors open into a substantial conservatory. Previously operated as a successful tearoom, this versatile space enjoys panoramic views across the gardens and land and benefits from its own independent entrance, making it ideal for entertaining, home working or business use.

The kitchen/breakfast room is well equipped with an extensive range of fitted cabinetry, generous work surfaces and ample space for family dining, making it a natural gathering place within the home. A further reception room, currently arranged as a fifth bedroom, enjoys dual-aspect countryside views and could equally serve as a formal dining room, snug or home office. A useful cloakroom/utility room completes the ground floor.

The first floor offers four generous double bedrooms arranged around a central landing. Three bedrooms benefit from ensuite shower rooms, while a contemporary family bathroom serves the remaining bedroom. The thoughtful layout offers flexibility for larger families, visiting guests or those wishing to operate a bed and breakfast from the property.

Exterior

The grounds and outbuildings are a particular feature of Little Gatcombe Farm and provide exceptional facilities for equestrian enthusiasts.

A substantial modern barn accommodates six spacious loose boxes and benefits from both power and water. Across the courtyard, part of the stable block has been converted into a practical office, ideal for managing a livery yard or home-based business, while an adjoining open barn and two further stables provide excellent additional storage for tack, machinery, feed or livestock.

The enclosed sand school offers excellent year-round schooling facilities, while the surrounding paddocks provide well-fenced grazing and turnout. The property also enjoys direct access to an extensive network of bridleways, allowing riders to explore the surrounding countryside directly from the farm.

A recently constructed office and storage building offers further versatility and could lend itself to conversion as a studio, annexe or additional workspace, subject to the necessary planning permissions.

The property is approached via a wide gravel driveway with separate gated entrance and exit points, providing extensive parking for numerous vehicles, horseboxes and trailers. Surrounding the farmhouse are attractive formal gardens with mature boundaries, while the remaining land extends to approximately 24 acres, enjoying uninterrupted views across the rolling countryside and completing this exceptional rural holding.
