Guide Price £895,000

Understood to date back to 1918 and extended/ improved in more recent years, this unique detached family home provides a surprising level of particularly versatile accommodation displaying many delightful features complemented by wonderful mature grounds providing an excellent degree of privacy extending to just over 1. acre (sts). The property has an interesting history associated with the former Barton Hall having the original "St Johns" well, still situated within the grounds.

A distinctive and beautifully proportioned period home, set within mature grounds and offering superb family accommodation arranged over two floors. This wonderfully individual property combines generous, light-filled living spaces with a thoughtfully designed layout, creating an exceptional home with great versatility.

Approached via an attractive entrance hall featuring wide painted floorboards and a traditional staircase, the sense of character is immediate. The reception rooms sit gracefully to the front and rear elevations, each enjoying views over the gardens and benefitting from excellent natural light.

At the heart of the property lies the impressive kitchen/dining room, an expansive open-plan space extending to over 35 ft. This superb room has been designed with both family life and entertaining in mind, incorporating a substantial central island, extensive bespoke cabinetry, integrated appliances, and large glazed doors opening to the gardens. The dining area flows seamlessly into a further sitting space, complete with an attractive fireplace and a beautiful bay window overlooking the lawns.

The principal sitting room is an elegant and welcoming space, centred around a character fireplace and framed by tall windows providing an outlook onto the gardens. Rich painted boards, high ceilings and classic detailing give the room real presence, making it ideal for both relaxing and entertaining.

To the ground floor are two additional flexible rooms: a spacious study/bedroom with built-in storage and en-suite cloakroom, guest bedroom with en-suite and a further family room. These spaces offer valuable adaptability, ideal for multi-generational living, working from home, or guest accommodation. The principal bedroom is a spacious room with dressing room luxurious en-suite bathroom offering a contemporary suite. On the first floor are three bedrooms and a "jack and jill" bathroom, including a bath and separate shower enclosure, completing the accommodation.

Outside

The property is approached through the original gate to the former Barton Hall, opening to an expansive driveway providing parking for up to 8 cars and access to the double garaging. The gardens are a wonderful feature stocked with an abundance of mature trees and shrubs, providing the occupants with an excellent degree of privacy. Within the grounds is the original " St Johns" well, from where the property derives its name. In all 1.05 of an acre (s.t.s).
