The living and dining room

An expansive reception area designed for both relaxing and entertaining, combining living and dining spaces in one. Character is provided by wide oak floorboards, exposed ceiling timbers and a cast iron fireplace. Twin sash windows overlook Market Street while a spiral staircase rises to the second floor and a door leads into the kitchen.

The kitchen

A practical kitchen fitted with a range of base and wall cabinets and integrated oven and gas hob. A large sash window draws in the morning light and there is a tiled splashback for easy upkeep. There is space for a small breakfast table and a door to the adjacent utility room.

The principal bedroom

The principal bedroom sits beneath the eaves and provides a generous double room on the top floor. A combination of Velux and sash windows and exposed beams characterise the space. A low ledge along one wall offers display space and the vaulted ceiling enhances the sense of volume.

The second bedroom

The second bedroom features an impressive vaulted ceiling framed by original timber trusses and two Velux windows frame the roofscape. This atmospheric room is ideal for guests or older children seeking privacy.

The dressing room

Accessed from the second bedroom, this room is designated as a dressing room but is currently utilised as an extra bedroom. Two Velux windows and exposed beams, along with built-in cupboards, provide character and storage. The configuration lends itself equally well to use as a dressing room, nursery or study.

The third bedroom

Currently set up as a comfortable single bedroom or study on the first floor, this room makes a versatile addition to the home. A fitted bookcase stretches along one wall and there is a generous window allowing views over the street. Its position near the bathroom makes it ideal for guests or working from home.

The bathroom

Serving the first floor bedrooms is a well appointed family bathroom. It features a corner bath with period style brass taps, a pedestal basin and a matching WC. Fully tiled walls with a decorative border and a round porthole window create a light and fresh space.

The landing and cloakroom

The second floor landing is more than a corridor, forming a sitting area beneath exposed rafters. A white painted balustrade overlooks the stairwell and a door opens to the cloakroom. The cloakroom itself includes a modern WC and compact basin set beneath the eaves, ideal for night-time convenience.

The entrance hall

Stepping into the home from Market Street, a welcoming reception hall introduces the residential accommodation. The space retains a period fireplace with timber surround, polished floorboards and a painted staircase rising to the first floor. There is access to a ground floor shower room, storage cupboards and the integral shop beyond.

The shop

Fronting Market Street is the commercial shop unit included with the property. Three deep display windows and a central glazed door create an inviting retail frontage while the interior offers wood flooring and high ceilings. It is currently tenanted on a lease, providing scope for continued income or a live/work arrangement. It is currently tenanted on a lease (3-year term from December 2025), providing scope for continued income or a live/work arrangement.

The ground floor bathroom

Convenient for the shop and entrance hall, the ground floor shower room serves visitors and daily life. It includes a tiled walk-in shower with glass enclosure, a countertop basin with wall mounted tap, aWC and a heated towel rail. Stone tiling and an illuminated mirror complete the space.
