LONGACRE HOUSE

LONGACRE HOUSE

A stylish, five double bedroom detached house, circa 1910, with a versatile detached one bedroom guest annexe, located in the much sought after village of Longframlington, with fantastic open aspect, south facing views over the surrounding countryside as far as the coast and north across the village green. The grounds extend to approx. 1.66 acres to include formal gardens, a pasture, with tractor shed and vehicular access, a large detached garage and gravel in out driveway. NO UPWARD CHAIN

Longacre House is a handsome and generously proportioned family home, sympathetically refurbished and extended by the current owners of 30 years - with many Edwardian period features retained including: high ceilings, original period fireplaces, decorative ceiling coving, traditional brick and stonework, and generous light rooms - these are combined with modern double glazed, wooden sash or casement windows to maximise light and energy efficiency. The former original crofters cottage was a modest, traditional stone property with a long strip field or 'croft' at the rear for small scale cultivation dating back to the 1800's. It was replaced in 1910 in period style, and extended by the current owners with an impressive two storey extension, a detached garage and the conversion of the former byre.
