

Positioned along Barton Road in the heart of Harlington, this striking double-fronted detached home captures the essence of refined village living. Framed by far-reaching views towards the iconic Sharpenhoe Clappers, it offers a rare balance of countryside tranquility and everyday connectivity.

Behind its handsome façade lies an interior that has been thoughtfully curated with an exceptional eye for detail. The current owners have blended period character with contemporary sophistication, creating spaces that feel both elegant and effortlessly liveable. Each room has been carefully considered, resulting in a home that flows beautifully and feels warm, welcoming and distinctly individual.

This is a home designed not simply to be admired, but to be enjoyed, whether hosting friends, relaxing with family, or taking in the surrounding landscape that defines this special setting.

Harlington itself offers the charm of a traditional village lifestyle, yet remains superbly connected, with a mainline station providing fast and frequent services into London.

A private viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the quality, setting and lifestyle this exceptional home affords.

The sense of quality is immediate upon entering the welcoming reception hall, a calm and elegant introduction that sets the tone for the home beyond.

The ground floor unfolds with an impressive degree of versatility. Three beautifully proportioned reception rooms provide flexibility for modern living: a cosy sitting room centred around a character fireplace for quieter evenings, a refined study that could effortlessly serve as a fifth bedroom, and a generous family room offering additional space to relax or entertain.

At the heart of the home lies a superbly appointed kitchen, thoughtfully designed with both form and function in mind. This space flows seamlessly into a breathtaking open-plan living and dining area, where a vaulted ceiling enhances the feeling of light and volume. It is a room made for gathering — equally suited to lively dinner parties or relaxed family mornings, with an undeniable sense of space and connection.

Practicality has not been overlooked, with a well-equipped utility room and a stylish ground-floor wet room discreetly integrated into the layout.

Upstairs, four generously sized bedrooms provide comfort and privacy. The principal suite benefits from its own en-suite shower room, while a beautifully finished family bathroom serves the remaining bedrooms. Each room feels balanced and thoughtfully arranged, continuing the home's cohesive design.

Externally, ample driveway parking for up to four vehicles ensures everyday ease for both residents and visitors.
