A superbly presented, detached, stone-built family home occupying a slightly elevated position with a commanding far-reaching view over the delightful open countryside that surrounds the hamlet of Oker. The accommodation is set over two floors, offering: two lower-ground-floor bedrooms, shower room and utility room; two ground-floor bedrooms; family bathroom; spacious sitting room with south-facing sunroom off; good-sized dining hallway; and kitchen with garden/breakfast room extension. There are delightful, well-stocked, mature gardens surrounding the property, plus a driveway providing off-road parking and a detached garage.

Oker is a charming hamlet situated on the southern slopes of Oker Hill, offering a peaceful rural retreat just a short distance from Matlock. The village is famous for its association with the poet William Wordsworth, who was inspired to write a sonnet about the landmark 'Will Shore's Tree' atop Oker Hill. This prominent peak, once thought to be a Roman lookout point, provides breathtaking 360-degree views across the Derwent Valley and the surrounding Peak District. Despite its tranquil feel, Oker is well-connected with easy access to the amenities of nearby Matlock (2.5 miles), Bakewell (6 miles), and Chesterfield (11 miles). The hamlet is well positioned for commuters, with the A38 and M1 motorway accessible via the nearby A6, and a regular branch line rail service to Derby and Nottingham available from Matlock station.
