Property Description
The property has an attractive frontage, combining brickwork with stone detailing for a smart appearance. A hardstanding driveway provides parking for two vehicles and is flanked by a stone-chipped flowerbed planted with lavender, with a small area of lawn adding further greenery. The driveway continues towards the single garage, while a paved pathway leads to the front entrance.

A composite entrance door with glazed insert opens into a welcoming hallway, where wood-effect laminate flooring provides a contemporary finish. The staircase rises to the first floor with carpeting underfoot, while there is also access to a well-proportioned ground floor WC. The WC incorporates a wash hand basin within a useful unit with integrated storage, making excellent use of the available space.

Solid timber double doors with glazed panels open into the bright and welcoming lounge, which continues with the same wood-effect flooring and features attractive coved ceilings. Finished in neutral tones, the room provides plenty of space for comfortable furnishings, while a handy understair storage cupboard is neatly tucked away around the corner. French doors, accompanied by a glazed side panel, open directly into the conservatory, creating a natural flow between the two reception spaces.

The conservatory provides a particularly versatile addition to the home, with attractive Karndean wood-effect flooring, a glazed ceiling and an abundance of natural light. A fitted air-conditioning unit provides both heating and cooling, while plenty of power points add to the practicality of the room. Currently used as a second reception space, it could equally lend itself to a dining area, reading room or simply somewhere to sit and enjoy the uninterrupted sea views.

The kitchen is fitted with tiled flooring and a modern range of high-gloss wall and base units, complemented by subtle sensor lighting beneath the wall cabinets. The layout incorporates a clever split-level design, with the lower section providing space for a compact table and chairs. Marble-effect quartz worktops continue into the upstands and splashbacks, while several of the base cupboards feature convenient swing-out shelving. Integrated appliances include a Neff fridge freezer, oven, microwave oven/grill, induction hob and Bosh washing machine. A composite sink with deep bowl and half bowl is fitted with an instant boiling-water tap, adding a particularly useful modern touch.

The stairs lead to a pleasant first-floor landing, where a drop-down hatch provides access to the loft space. A useful cupboard houses the hot water tank and the electric heating 'wet system' serving the radiators.

The primary bedroom was deliberately relocated to the rear of the property when the vendors purchased the home from new, allowing them to take full advantage of the wonderful sea views. The result is a bright and well-proportioned double bedroom with a feature wall and plenty of space for bedroom furniture. The high-gloss freestanding wardrobes are included within the sale. The room also benefits from a modern en suite, fully tiled from floor to ceiling and fitted with a good-sized shower cubicle featuring a multi-function shower head and separate handheld diverter, together with a WC and wash hand basin incorporated into a single unit with useful storage.

The second bedroom is an excellent-sized double room, comfortably capable of accommodating a king-size bed alongside freestanding cabinets and bedside tables. The same high-gloss freestanding wardrobes found within the primary bedroom are also present here and are included within the sale.

The third bedroom is a particularly generous single room and could, more than likely, accommodate a double bed if required. Currently used as a home office, its generous proportions and flexible layout mean it could equally serve as a bedroom, hobby room or additional workspace.

The main bathroom is modern and fully tiled from floor to ceiling, creating a smart and easy-to-maintain finish. It features a Jacuzzi bath with shower over and glass screen, chrome heated towel rail and a WC and wash hand basin incorporated into a useful vanity unit with storage beneath.

The rear garden is accessed either through a gate from the front of the property or directly from the conservatory and has been thoughtfully arranged over three tiers. The first level begins with a small patio immediately outside the conservatory, providing a natural transition into the garden, before opening onto a beautifully maintained lawn bordered by established flower beds. The planting provides a wonderful variety of colour throughout the seasons, while mature apple, plum, pear and cherry trees add further interest and the opportunity to enjoy home-grown fruit.

A charming picket fence leads down to the second tier, where another lawned area is bordered by sleeper beds, offering an excellent opportunity for anyone with green fingers to create productive vegetable beds. A summer house is also positioned on this level, providing a useful retreat or additional outdoor storage space.

The final tier is more compact, featuring a further lawned area and a prepared base for a greenhouse. Despite the garden's northerly aspect, its elevated position and open surroundings allow it to enjoy plenty of sunshine, making the most of the outdoor space throughout the day.

The property also benefits from solar panels. There is no feed-in tariff, however the current arrangement provides the owners with free use of the electricity generated by the panels. The panels are specified as 330W PERC black modules, JAM60S12 310–330/PR.
