THE DETAIL

The Detail

Accessed via a communal entrance, the apartment is located on the second floor and is approached through a hallway fitted with an intercom system, providing controlled access into the building. There is also a small coat hanging area just off the hallway, offering a convenient place for everyday outerwear.

The lounge is a light and comfortable reception room with a window overlooking the side of the property. The room provides a versatile setting for both relaxing and entertaining, with an opening leading directly into the kitchen and creating a natural connection between the two spaces.

The kitchen has been arranged to provide useful preparation and storage space, with a combination of grey and white units. There is provision for a freestanding cooker together with space beneath the worktop for a fridge and freezer. A separate pantry provides further valuable storage, helping to keep the main kitchen area practical and uncluttered.

The double bedroom overlooks the communal courtyard and offers a comfortable space for bedroom furniture, whilst retaining a pleasant outlook. The bathroom is fitted with a bath with an electric shower over, WC and wash basin, providing all the essential facilities.

One of the apartment's particularly useful features is the good-sized utility and storage room. This houses the Vaillant boiler while retaining additional space that could be utilised for laundry facilities, wardrobe storage or general household items, giving the property greater flexibility than might initially be expected from a one-bedroom apartment.

The property also benefits from resident parking, with permits provided for use of the car park.

Positioned within Derby, the apartment provides convenient access to the city's wide range of amenities, including shops, supermarkets, restaurants, cafés and leisure facilities. Derby city centre offers an extensive choice of retail and entertainment options, whilst the surrounding area provides access to road and public transport links for travelling throughout Derby and further afield. The property is therefore well placed for those seeking a manageable home with everyday amenities and wider transport connections within easy reach.
