ASCOT HOUSE

A stunning country home of appreciable character, bordering open countryside, nestling in the heart of Colston Bassett, one of the most highly regarded villages in the charming, pastoral rural landscape of the Vale of Belvoir, and unquestionably deserving of a Conservation Area designation.

This is the first time Ascot House has been on the open market for some 30 years. Comprising an extensive complex of period barns, configured in a 'U'-shaped formation converted and restored with considerable regard for the inherent character of the original buildings, offering an extensive range of flexible accommodation capable of providing a self-contained or independent living arrangement – if required.

Offers Over £1.7m

COLSTON BASSETT

Colston Bassett is without question one of the County's pre-eminent villages being protected by a Conservation Area designation and set in the unspoilt picturesque countryside of the Vale of Belvoir, having useful amenities close to hand in the neighbouring market towns of Bingham and Melton Mowbray, with relatively direct road access into the main regional centres of Nottingham, Leicester, Newark on Trent and Grantham.

The thriving centre of West Bridgford, home of the famous Trent Bridge Cricket Ground, offers superb retail, social and leisure opportunities as well as a wide range of activities and professional services, and Radcliffe on Trent, a larger village to the west of Colston Bassett offers excellent amenities and a highly rated golf club

There is wonderful village inn, The Martins Arms, which is a focal point for the village. On the village outskirts, in the lee of the ancient ruins of a Norman church, St Marys, there is an active cricket club, croquet club and a bowls facility for a more sedate sporting pursuit. There is a village hall for hosting events and gatherings, a small independent preparatory school on School Lane itself and famously Colston Bassett is of course synonymous with Stilton cheese.
