Some houses are built to sell. Two Moors Way House was built to become a family home. Completed in 2023, every aspect of its design has been carefully considered, from the dramatic double-height entrance hall to the practical features that make everyday life easier. Set within approximately 3.36 acres and enjoying views across its own land, it offers the peace and privacy of country living whilst remaining less than a mile from the thriving village of Witheridge. With two pubs, cafés, a village shop, doctor's surgery, primary school and excellent links to Tiverton, Crediton and Exeter, it successfully combines rural living with everyday convenience.

The house has been designed around light, space and flexibility. A stunning atrium-style reception hall with bespoke staircase creates an unforgettable first impression before leading into the heart of the home; a magnificent open-plan kitchen, dining and family room where vaulted ceilings, extensive glazing and two sets of bi-fold doors blur the lines between inside and out. The bespoke kitchen is beautifully equipped with quartz and solid oak worktops, a large central island and a walk-in pantry, whilst the sitting room provides a more intimate space centred around a woodburning stove. One of the greatest strengths of the design is its adaptability. Although there are four generous double bedrooms on the first floor, the ground floor offers a range of rooms that can evolve as life changes, whether as a cinema room, games room, home office, gym, yoga studio, additional reception room or even further bedroom accommodation if required. The principal suite enjoys a dressing room and luxurious ensuite, whilst the remaining bedrooms are equally well served by a Jack and Jill ensuite and a separate family bathroom. Even the utility room has been designed without compromise. Larger than many kitchens and complete with its own central island, extensive storage and a first-floor laundry chute, it's one of those thoughtful features that quickly becomes indispensable. The oversized double garage continues that theme, offering considerably more space than most and connecting directly into the house.

Outside, the property is approached via a privately owned driveway serving just a small number of neighbouring homes before opening into an enclosed gravelled parking courtyard, where first-fix electrics have already been installed should a future owner wish to add electric entrance gates. The gardens and grounds extend to approximately 3.36 acres, with generous, paved terraces creating superb spaces for entertaining whilst the remaining gardens have intentionally been left as a blank canvas, ready for a new owner to landscape to their own taste. Beyond lie the pasture paddocks, young arboretum and streamside area, creating a wonderful setting for family life or those simply wanting space around them. Planning permission also exists for an agricultural storage building, adding further flexibility for those wishing to make greater use of the land. Combined with an EPC A rating, air source heating, underfloor heating throughout and a substantial solar PV array designed so battery storage could be incorporated in the future if desired, this is a home that has been built not simply for today, but for decades to come.

Note: There are two adjacent barn conversions which have full residential permission that are also for sale – see separate listing.
