LOCATION

Chrishall is a charming village located near the market town of Royston on the Essex, Hertfordshire and Cambridgeshire borders. Surrounded by beautiful open countryside, it offers a peaceful rural setting while still providing convenient access to nearby towns and transport links. The village has a strong sense of community and benefits from a range of local amenities including a primary school, village hall, church, sports facilities and a traditional pub. Chrishall is also well placed for access to Cambridge, Royston and Saffron Walden, making it an attractive location for those seeking village life with good connectivity.

The Site

The site extends to approx. 0.49 acre. and comprises three redundant agricultural buildings to be converted to three residential dwellings. The site is not in an area of flooding, not within the greenbelt and lies just outside of the development envelope of Chrishall.

Planning

UTT/25/1539/FUL

Full planning for the conversion of and extension of redundant agricultural barns to create 3no. residential dwellings, with associated hard and soft landscaping, operational development and infrastructure. The proposed dwellings will retain the existing layout and approximate footprint of the existing agricultural buildings. New cart lodges will be provided to the rear of the properties. The new dwellings have been sensitively designed to respect the setting and character of the immediate area.
