Stansted Mountfitchet is a historic village that dates back to the Roman era. It is recognized by its large windmill, which can be seen throughout Stansted and was constructed in 1878. Most famously known for London's Stansted Airport, which is one stop away on the train, or just a 10-minute bus journey. Despite the close proximity to the airport, Stansted is one of the only places within the surrounding area that has no flight paths, enhancing its quiet and picturesque village atmosphere.

The village has grown larger in size over recent years and is becoming an ever-popular location for families and commuters alike, as its fantastic transport links are complemented by its quaint shops and boutiques. The appeal is enhanced as Stansted is only 3 miles from the market town of Bishops Stortford which offers a large indoor shopping centre, many restaurants and bars and a weekly market within its high street, encapsulation and promoting the areas historical roots.
