ACCOMMODATION

Glebe House is an impressive and charming home that has been tastefully improved and sympathetically extended by the current owners. Upon entry you cross a partially worn stone threshold which highlights the history of the property as a late Victorian era residence. An expansive hallway with a part gallery landing, floods the room with light. The room is partially laid with wooden and tiled flooring providing access to all the principal rooms. The formal sitting room has a feature open fire place as a focal point with many character features including high ceilings, detailed covings and chandelier light fittings. French doors framed by a pretty Wisteria lead to the terrace and rear garden. The dual aspect dining room has a feature wood burner and internal glazed bi-fold doors which lead to the triple aspect sun room with a vaulted ceiling, currently arranged as a games room and would make a wonderful garden room to enjoy the views. A further reception room is currently arranged as an office, which is ideal for those who work from home but could be utilised as a music or play room. The extended kitchen breakfast room has a wonderful informal feel and has access to the gardens. The kitchen consists of a range of wall and base units, included are a range of integrated appliances including ovens and an Aga. Adjoining is a utility room, pantry and boot / store room. Completing the ground floor is a cloak room.

The first and second bedrooms are very generous rooms with wonderful views of the garden and neighbouring farmland, both benefit from built in storage. A Jack and Jill bathroom with a classic white suite including a roll top bath. The third and fourth bedrooms are good size rooms each accommodating a double bed. The modern fully tiled family bathroom has been finished with stone tiling and is composed of a white suite including a feature bath, separate double shower cubicle, dual sinks and a w.c.

ANNEXE

The property includes a detached self contained annexe which is currently run as a successful holiday let, but has previously been used as multi generational accommodation. A characterful dwelling that was previously stables / outbuilding and has been converted by the current owners. It seamlessly blends traditional materials with open plan living. The heart of the home is the kitchen sitting room with a vaulted ceiling. The kitchen has a range of wall and base units and integrated appliances, an original feature of the stable is used as a division to the open plan sitting dining room with French doors leading to the patio and garden. The two bedrooms are of a good size with bedroom one arranged with a double and bedrooms two as twin. The bathroom includes a white suite of bath with overhead shower, basin and w.c.

It is approached via wooden gates leading to a driveway with parking. A brick patio adjoins the dwelling which is ideal for outside dining and the garden is laid to lawn and bound by established hedgerows providing good privacy from the main house.
