Property Introduction

The main property is delightful family home offering generous proportioned rooms throughout with part of the property having a self-contained area comprising of a lounge, kitchen and cloakroom, making it ideal for a dependent relative.

The additional accommodation comprises of an entrance boot room, a large kitchen/diner, conservatory, spa room, spacious lounge with feature wood burner with an archway leading to a dining room whilst to the first floor are four bedrooms, the principal having its own dressing room, two shower rooms and access to a useful loft room.

Throughout the property there are a number of characteristic features such as beamed ceilings and a floor to ceiling brick fireplace in the lounge, making it a delightful focal point.

Externally the gardens and grounds are in the region of 1.1 acres divided into different sections with the glamping area, small paddock, wooded area and formal gardens to both front and rear with a range of useful outbuildings.

The property is approached via a private lane with access two separate parking areas, one of which leads to the gravelled parking for the glamping designated areas.

Location

Treleigh Farm is located on the outskirts of the historic mining town of Redruth and steeped in Cornish history and traditions.

Within just a short driving distance is the delightful rugged north coast with it's beautiful coastline walks taking in the wonderful scenery and known for its excellent surfing beaches such as Portreath, Perranporth and Porthtowan.

For those wishing to explore this exquisite location there are an abundance of countryside walks including Carn Brea, Tehidy Woods and the Great Flat Lode.

The cathedral city of Truro is approximately fifteen miles distance known for its Georgian architecture, cobbled streets and being home to the Hall for Cornwall and the three spired Gothic cathedral.

For those who enjoy water sports such as paddle boarding and kayaking the south coast is sheltered and is a popular destination to explore the many surrounding creeks and rivers.

The main A30 trunk road is also accessible and makes travelling to and from the county that much easier and reaching other destinations within the county.

As previously mentioned, Treleigh Farm is approached by a private lane leading to a five bar farmhouse style gate accessing an extensive gravelled parking area for both the glamping site and the main residence. Additional parking can also be found to the other side of the property with a right of way over the neighbouring property. The glamping areas are divided into two separate sections being enclosed with fencing making it secure for dogs and being laid to grass and having their own separate toilets and showers and both having the benefit of a solar panelled supply. Both glamping areas are mounted on a deck. From the parking area a gateway is gained into a small paddock with a good range of trees and is used currently by the vendors for dog training and from here a gateway gives access to an additional area of garden which houses a variety of useful outbuildings such as a workshop, sit-on mower store and a third storage unit the vendors utilise for the glamping equipment. To the rear of the property is a further area of garden with access to a chicken house with a range of mature shrubs, whilst a pathway via the side of the property leads to a further area of ground with the formal gardens directly in front of the property being laid to lawn, again with a further range of mature shrubs and trees. NB For further information on the glamping, this can be found on the vendors website under Blue Dog Glamping
