SITUATION

Mullion, the largest village on the Lizard Peninsula, offers a lively and welcoming atmosphere, particularly in the bustling summer season. It serves as a vibrant local centre, featuring an array of independent shops, cosy inns, and diverse restaurants. The village is well-equipped with essential services, including both primary and secondary schools, a Health Centre, and a top-tier 18-hole golf course.

Just over a mile from the village is the scenic Mullion Cove, a historic harbour sheltered by robust sea walls against the tides of Mounts Bay. Nearby, visitors can enjoy the sandy shores of Poldhu Cove or take a scenic coastal walk to Polurrian Beach, a favourite among surfers. The area is part of the Lizard's designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, celebrated for its dramatic cliffs, untouched countryside, and picturesque fishing villages like Cadgwith—all easily accessible from Mullion.

Around nine miles to the north lies Helston, a traditional Cornish market town offering a wide selection of amenities. From unique local shops and historic pubs to schools, sports centres, and leisure facilities, Helston provides everything needed for both residents and visitors alike.

The accommodation is spacious and flexible, ideally suited to modern family life or those seeking a peaceful rural retreat. A well-proportioned double bedroom located on the ground floor, enjoying excellent levels of natural light and glorious countryside outlooks. A second good-sized single bedroom offers versatility as a guest room, nursery, or home office—ideal for remote working. A central living room provides a warm and inviting space for relaxation throughout the seasons. The open fireplace adds a cosy touch for winter evenings, while the adjoining conservatory offers an ideal vantage point to take in the surrounding views. With scope for further development (subject to the necessary consents), this space holds excellent potential for future enhancement. At the heart of the home is the newly updated kitchen/dining room, designed with both style and practicality in mind. Offering ample storage and workspace, it is perfect for family meals or entertaining. Adjoining the kitchen is a useful area providing additional storage—ideal for keeping the main living areas clutter-free.

To the rear, a practical porch area incorporates a convenient WC, particularly helpful for families or keen gardeners returning from the outdoors. A modern family bathroom on the ground floor enhances the home's accessibility and supports single-level living, if required.

Stairs rise to an impressive principal suite on the first floor. This large double bedroom is filled with natural light and enjoys elevated views across the countryside. A spacious en suite bathroom—featuring both a bath and separate shower—exceeds expectations, while built-in storage offers ample space for everyday needs. A private balcony completes the suite, providing the perfect setting to enjoy sunrise with a morning coffee.
