

The accommodation

The light and airy bay fronted home is accessed to the front elevation into the entrance porch. This in turn opens up into a welcoming entrance hallway, providing stairs to the first floor living accommodation. The ground floor boasts a lounge, a separate dining room and a fitted kitchen. Upstairs are two nicely split bedrooms and a bathroom suite, comprising a panel bath with an overhead fitted shower, a pedestal wash hand basin and a low flush WC. Majority tiled in a tasteful tone, it is complemented by the chrome heated towel rail and ceiling spotlights. The property also has a cellar which stretches across the same area as the two downstairs reception rooms. There are many period features in this classic period home. Wooden floors are a feature and the cast iron fireplaces in the bedrooms are joyous.

Lets look outside

The property has courtyard frontage with gated access and to the rear is a concrete based yard with a garden area. A real sun trap after midday. There is also a brick built outhouse providing storage,

The location
